

ALIGNING NATIONAL APPROACHES TO DIGITAL PRESERVATION

Location: The National Library of Estonia, Tallinn, Estonia

Date: May 23-25, 2011

The “Aligning National Approaches to Digital Preservation” conference will provide a forum in which national preservation programs may share information with each other in order to begin building strategic international collaborations to support the preservation of our collective cultural memory.

A number of countries have embarked on ambitious digital preservation programs at the national level. The “Aligning National Approaches to Digital Preservation” conference will enable such programs to begin exploring how to create and sustain international collaborations to support the preservation of our collective cultural memory.

The outcomes for the event will be a strategic alignment of national approaches to enable new forms of international collaboration and an edited volume that documents an action plan for building collaboration among interested digital preservation initiatives.

Speakers include:

- Laura Campbell, Library of Congress (USA)
- Inge Angevaare, Netherlands Coalition for Digital Preservation (Netherlands)
- Michael Seadle, Institut für Bibliotheks- und Informationswissenschaft (Germany)
- Raivo Ruusalepp, Tallinn University (Estonia)
- Maurizio Lunghi, Fondazione Rinascimento Digitale (Italy)
- Neil Grindley, Joint Information Systems Committee (UK)

If you are interested in presenting or nominating someone to present, please contact Katherine Skinner, katherine@metaarchive.org and Michelle Gallinger, mgal@loc.gov.

<http://educopia.org/events/ANADP>